Fraternities
The Interfraternity Council regulates all relations between the seven men's fraternities. It consists of two members from each organization, a senior and a junior. The junior representative automatically becomes the senior representative.

The chief problem for the Council is men's rushing. This year the system of deferred rushing was again used and it is expected that next year the Council will defer rushing to a still later date. Besides assigning dates to the freshman men, the Council passed out its rules to the incoming class to make them familiar with its organization.

This year the Council sent a representative to the national interfraternity council meeting in New York City. In cooperation with the alumni the Council again was donor of a cup given for the best house decoration during Alumni Homecoming Week.
The object of the Pan-Hellenic Association is to regulate all sorority problems on the women's campus, and to promote friendly relationships among the six organizations. The Association adopts and enforces the rushing and pledging rules and voted to continue the use of deferred rushing during the past year.

The organization is composed of three representatives from each sorority—a junior, a senior and an alumnae representative.

Mu of Kappa Phi Kappa, national professional educational fraternity which was established at Middlebury in 1925, is open to students who have chosen teaching as their vocation. During the past year members have heard Prof. Harry H. Barnum contrast Turkish and American school systems, and Dr. Robert D. Leigh describe the Bennington College work-study plan. Arthur D. Wright, national secretary of the organization, visited the local chapter in November in connection with National Education Week.
Organizations
The editors of the 1937 KALEIDOSCOPE have made numerous and diverse changes over the years. Operating under a changed constitution, the board consisted of only members of the junior class, instead of representatives of the sophomore and junior groups. The positions of managing editor and art editor were abolished, in order to aid ease of production, and the positions of sports editor and two class editors were added. The office of art editor was made an ex-officio position, the incumbent elected by the board if it becomes necessary to have this position.

The board of the KALEIDOSCOPE has attempted to continue in the path of last year’s publication, in modernizing the book and making it more than a catalogue of events. The winter theme of the opening section was chosen because it was felt that as half the time spent at Middlebury by the students was during the winter season, an accurate representation of this phase of college was appropriate. A cover was selected which would harmonize with the opening section and which would be individual to the College.

In an attempt to make the faculty, junior and organization sections more interesting, new and unusual picture and type layouts were selected. In keeping with the pictorial theme of the opening section, appropriate photographs have been used for the division pages. Organization plans used in recent editions were again used for the book.
The Campus, student news-weekly, was improved during the past year by several changes in general composition. A separate page was set aside in each issue for the presentation of sports news. New headline styles and a new heading-plate characterized the front page. A number of previously untried layouts were used with considerable success. Four feature columns appeared regularly for the first time. Two dealt with college social life, one with current events, and another presented brief literary criticisms. Interviews, drama and lecture reviews, and communications were given much space. Special issues were put out during Junior and Senior Weeks.

Editorials this year have been primarily concerned with local problems, although world affairs—particularly peace movements—have received some attention. Granting of college credit for major extra-curricular activities, abolition of "Hell Week" and delayed rushing have been advocated. In the field of international events, American participation in the Olympic games was favored and the value of "peace strikes" was questioned.

A definite tryout system is used as the basis of election to the Campus board. Students interested in positions begin work in their freshman year. Story-grades, press-room-hours, skill in proof-reading, and examination-marks are considered in selecting the news staff and assistant editors. Members of the business staff are picked after competition in the securing of advertisements and delivery of the paper. Departmental heads are chosen from junior members of the board.
The Saxonian is a College publication founded in 1921 by the English Club with the purpose of encouraging creative writing on the part of the student body. The essays, poems, reviews, and short stories which it prints are selected by an editorial board, which is assisted in its work by a member of the faculty. This board consists of students elected annually from those who have shown the most talent and interest by having published at least three contributions in the magazine. Members of the business staff are chosen from the tryouts who have displayed the most ability and effort.

Every year, the Saxonian holds three contests for which prizes are given, one for short stories, another for essays, and another for poems. The committee of judges is composed of members of the faculty.
The Handbook contains condensed information concerning college activities. Although intended primarily to acquaint entering students with campus life, it is distributed to upperclassmen as well as freshmen. The publication, sponsored jointly by the Student Council and Student Union, is in the charge of a board of four juniors.

Several innovations in format characterize this year's volume. The booklet has been enlarged from five by three and a quarter inches to six by four inches. The decoration of the cover with a brown and green cut is a second change. Other improvements are the insertion of division pages and the use of paper of better texture.

Next year's board will be the first chosen according to principles set forth in a written constitution. The new document, drawn up this spring by the retiring editors, adheres closely to established selection methods, under which the Handbook directors are picked by the most important members of the newly elected KALEIDOSCOPE and Campus boards.

The booklet, prefaced by the College President's welcome to the incoming class, presents in its first section a brief history of the school traditions and customs and gives Middlebury songs and cheers. The second division includes rushing information, freshman "pointers" and rules. In the third part of the volume is a list of leaders in campus affairs and short descriptions of active organizations. The last section contains general student regulations, constitutions of the most important extra-curricular groups, and a list of the administration and faculty members with their college addresses.

Revenue from advertisements by local tradesmen and contributions from the Undergraduate Association, Student Union and Women's Athletic Association finance the publication and distribution of the booklet.
The Student Life Committee is the organization which has ultimate control over all student activities, social and extra-curricular. Its approval must be received for all dances, athletic contests, glee club trips, dramatic presentations, and debate schedules. Changes in the constitution of any organization, or the creation or abolition of a college group must receive the sanction of this body. It has the power to enforce all regulations passed by the Undergraduate Association and Student Union.

As the students provide most of their own entertainment, and as there are numerous activities carried on at Middlebury each week, the Student Life Committee has an important function to fulfill.

The group is composed of the deans of each college, a member of the faculty appointed by the President, and the presidents of the Undergraduate Association and Student Union, thus giving student representation to the committee. This year, due to the fact that Dean Burt A. Hazeltine is on sabbatical leave, Prof. Stephen A. Freeman was appointed as a fifth member to serve on the committee.

During the past year the committee gave its approval for the creation of the Aviation Club, as aviation was recognized as a major interest to the campus. It sanctioned a larger debate schedule for the men's debating team and approved of such dances as the Winter Carnival and French Club balls.
The Student Council supervises the activities of all student organizations and individual undergraduates in the men's college. None of its regulations, however, may conflict with the rules of the women's Student Union or the College administration. It has the right to submit recommendations to the Undergraduate Association for an expression of opinion, and to effectuate these if a favorable vote is received.

Since a reorganization in 1929, the Council has consisted of the president of the Undergraduate Association, who acts as chairman; the four class presidents; the presidents of Blue Key, Waubanakee, and "M" Club; and a representative of student publications. Meetings, held at least once a month, are called by the head of the Undergraduate Association, ex-officio chairman of the group.

All extra-curricular organizations must have their constitutions approved by the Council. At least four votes are required for the adoption of any measure. The Council's constitution can be amended only by a two-thirds vote of the student body after two meetings, devoted solely to discussion of the proposed changes, have been held.

At a meeting in early fall, the organization authorized the purchase of prize cups for the winning teams in intramural touch football, volleyball, and golf tournaments. Later it organized a campaign for the return of borrowed College sports equipment to the athletic department.
The Undergraduate Association, one of the oldest student organizations at Middlebury, is the governmental unit in the men's college which functions primarily to further and to regulate all of the activities of the undergraduates, whether in the form of organizations or in individual enterprises.

The membership of the organization includes every undergraduate in the men's college and the dues are collected as a part of the College fee. The president is chosen in the spring of each year from among a group of nominees who have been recommended for the office by a special committee composed of a senior from each of the fraternities and one from the neutral body. The remaining officers are elected by the Student Council from its own numbers. Meetings of the organization may be called at the request of the president, the Student Council, or by petition of a two-fifths number of the members.

In order that the purpose of the Undergraduate Association may be more fully realized all new groups wishing to become established at Middlebury must have the approval of the officers of this body before they can become founded on the campus. The charge of the enforcement of any regulations laid down by the Undergraduate Association is taken by the two executive bodies, the Student Council and the Athletic Association.

The constitution of the Undergraduate Association has undergone frequent changes since the founding of the organization, the body now operating under a new set of rules adopted in the spring of 1929. The power to recommend to the administration any changes in the management or the curriculum of the College which it thinks proper is given to the Undergraduate Association.
The Student Union, the self-governing body of the women's college, was organized this year to replace Student Government Association. The latter organization was considered too narrow in its scope, whereas the new body controls all phases of activity in the women's college. Membership is broad in scope, as all women registered as students automatically become members of the Union. Meetings are held at the discretion of the Executive Council. The election of officers is held directly following spring recess.

Quoting from its constitution, the purpose of the Union is, "to further the spirit of unity among the women students at Middlebury; to coordinate and control extra-curricular activities of the women students, and to encourage high standards of responsibility and cooperation in student self-government."

A number of outstanding changes and additions were made in the new group. There are three councils: an Executive Council, consisting of the four officers, a Legislative Council, on which all organizations having women members, are represented, and a Judicial Council, presided over by a chief justice. The disciplinary problems are under the jurisdiction of the Judicial Council rather than the Executive Department, as under the former plan. The authority and duties of the Union are more evenly distributed among the three councils, whereas formerly, they were vested in the Executive Department. An important addition is the Social Committee, which controls all social functions and activities of the women.

With these important changes, the Student Union hopes to become the rightful self-governing body on the women's campus.

Waubanakee is a self-perpetuating senior honorary society, founded in 1911. The honor it is to belong to this organization is shown by the fact that for the last two years the society has been comprised of only three members. It is customary for the retiring seniors to tap members from the junior class, during Junior Week, usually before the first baseball game at Porter Field. Membership is shown by the wearing of a pin and hat, the pin being a gold tomahawk, and the hat, black cloth with a red tomahawk embroidered on the front.

Members are recognized as being the most outstanding men of their class, who have excelled in extra-curricular activities and have by their qualities of all-around ability shown their character.

During past years Waubanakee has been strictly an honorary society but last football season it assumed duties which had not been undertaken before. Preceding the homecoming games it had charge of the "pep" rally held at the gymnasium. Waubanakee, under the direction of its president, made all the arrangements for the rallies. The society added a new feature to the rallies, procuring the services of three of the musical organizations: the band, the glee club, and the Black Panthers.

In 1928 the Banshee Chapter of Mortar Board, the senior honorary society of the women’s college, replaced the former local organization known as the Banshees. Each spring as many as twelve of those junior women most representative of the women’s college in service, scholarship and leadership are tapped at the last Student Union meeting of the year. The eligibility for membership is based upon extra-curricular activities and upon a scholastic average at least three points above that of the women’s college.

The point system, adopted last spring, is administered by Mortar Board. This system eliminates the possibility of one person participating in too many extra-curricular activities, and thus gives others an opportunity for leadership. In order to arouse more interest in College affairs and keener competition in scholarship, a cup is annually presented by the organization to the sophomore woman most representative of her class.

For the benefit of introducing the freshmen to the mountain campus, Mortar Board conducts a trip to Breadloaf each fall for a day of fun and sport. Each Thanksgiving and Christmas the society plays an important part in distributing food and clothing to needy families in Middlebury and vicinity. Recently the organization secured a number of noted speakers and art exhibits for the College.

Blue Key, a self-perpetuating honorary society in the men's college, is composed of those men in the upper classes who have demonstrated their outstanding ability in extra-curricular activities. The society has charge of the entertainment of visiting teams and makes awards to the championship intramural teams of the College. Money for these purposes is raised by selling caps and rules to the members of the incoming class.

The organization was founded in 1930, replacing the earlier sophomore and junior honor societies, Delta Tau and Sages. Members of the three upper classes are tapped at a chapel service soon after the spring vacation. The group's insignia is a small blue key, worn by its members as a watch charm. The members wear a soft hat of navy blue, with a blue key embroidered on the front.
The "M" Club, composed of all undergraduates and alumni who have won a varsity letter in one of the five major sports of football, basketball, hockey, track, and baseball, has the encouragement of Middlebury athletics and the recognition of skill in sports as its primary purposes. The organization, founded in 1926, holds at least one meeting every month.

The group sponsors informal dances at the McCullough Gymnasium to obtain the money which the dean expends in purchasing "M" sweaters. The president of the club is a member of the Student Council.
Under the able direction of Miss Prudence H. Fish the Choir has contributed much to the daily and Sunday chapel programs. The group is composed of forty men and women. Rehearsals in preparation for Sunday programs are held every Thursday evening.

During the year the group combined with the Freshman Choir for special Christmas and Easter services. At various times several programs were presented to the churches in nearby towns. The Choir had two socials this year, including a dinner held at the home of President Moody.
The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. H. Goddard Owen, added another successful season to its record of sixty years' achievement. The group has become well-known throughout New England and New York, due to the annual concerts it gives throughout these regions.

The selections given by the organization covered a wide range, from drinking songs and sea chanties to folk music and delicate negro spirituals. Douglas F. Reilly '36, tenor, and Gordon E. Hoyt '36, 'cellist, were the soloists for the group. One of the features of this season was the radio broadcast given on the New York trip.

Due to the absence of Professor Owen during the first semester, Mr. Joseph F. Lechnyr of Burlington conducted the tryouts and directed the rehearsals until the end of the semester.
The College band, directed by Joseph F. Lechnyr, prominent Vermont musician, is composed of twenty-six members. Its initial appearance of the year was made at the annual Middlebury Night. The organization made two trips, accompanying the football team to the U. V. M. and Tufts contests. The band also played for services held Armistice Day and recorded several College songs in conjunction with movies taken of College activities.

Throughout the winter months the band holds informal meetings at which the program for the spring season is rehearsed. As a part of the Junior Week activities the band presents a concert on the steps of Mead Chapel. At the close of the year the band plays for Commencement and gives a concert during Senior Week.
The Orchestral Club, open to any student who plays a musical instrument, promotes an interest in orchestral music. The club familiarizes the student with classical music and gives the student an opportunity to gain practical knowledge and experience directing the various groups. This year the College purchased a new set of tympany which greatly aided its work. The annual concert, held each spring, was given April 26.
The A Tempo Club, founded in 1929, is an organization comprised of junior and senior women who have shown an active interest in music. The club sponsors the twilight musicales and other presentations of musical interest to the College. Last year the demonstration by the Arthur Murray dancers was one of the most popular presentations sponsored by the A Tempo Club.

This year the program of the group has consisted of the study of operas. Meetings are held monthly and at each meeting a certain opera is considered from the standpoints of author, story, and music. The annual Christmas party was a banquet held at the Middlebury Inn, shortly before vacation. It is planned that the organization will soon sponsor a concert for the benefit of the Nursery School.
The Liberal Club, a group of students interested in economic and political problems, sponsors lectures and discussions concerning current public events. The group has a membership of approximately sixty men, selected from all four classes in the men's college. In order to become a member of the Liberal Club, an applicant must be actively interested in economic, political and social conditions, and must have taken certain college courses which deal with these problems.

John T. Flynn, well-known economist and journalist, was the outstanding lecturer brought here by the organization during the past year. He spoke on April 13, giving his solution of America's depression difficulties. A second feature attraction was William B. Simpson, radical philosopher, who proposed a governmental system headed by "intellectual aristocrats." Prof. Harry M. Fife, who discussed the position of the consumer in price-fixing, was a third speaker who criticized some phase of internal affairs.

International occurrences were given much attention. Dr. T. Z. Koo, Oriental lecturer, spoke on current Chinese problems and later Karl Wolf, exchange student, discussed "Present-day Germany." J. Ernest Richardson and William B. Morrissey, Canadian debaters, outlined the Canadian political situation. In November the club organized an open forum discussion and vote on American participation in the Olympic games. Early in January Mr. Waldo H. Heinrichs talked on the Ethiopian crisis.
Aviation took its place on the campus this year with the founding of the Middlebury Flying Club. Several students, interested in flying, drew up a constitution and organized the club. Membership is open to both men and women. Profs. Waldo H. Heinrichs and Stephen A. Freeman are the faculty advisors.

The aim of the society is two-fold. It holds regular meetings to discuss the various phases of aviation. This includes both the technical and practical sides of planes and their operation. A typical program was a talk by a Burlington pilot followed by open discussion. Secondly, it aims to procure the means of active instruction in flying for those students interested in learning. Mr. Al Benet of the Central Jersey Airport was engaged to give trial lessons this fall and more is being done to secure the permanent use of a plane.

As a result of the work of the flying club, a new course in the principles of aeronautics has been instituted as an accredited course. Mr. William Hinton, graduate of Rutgers and experienced pilot, is the instructor.

With the rising enthusiasm for flying among the students, who believe that aviation will soon have a prominent place in all college curriculums, the club promises to be one of importance in Middlebury.
The Mountain Club, which first made its appearance in the spring of 1931, has been completely reorganized during the past year. It now includes, besides the governing board, a junior body known as the Skyline, which is composed of six men and six women from each of the three upper classes. Members are elected on the basis of activity, cooperation and interest. Governing board members are hereafter to be chosen from the Skyline.

The club's primary function is to stimulate student participation in out-of-door recreation. Throughout the spring and fall, day and overnight hikes are conducted to the mountains in the vicinity of Middlebury and the surrounding country. As a member of the Intercollegiate Outing Club Association, the club sent representatives to the association's College Week in the Adirondacks which was held early in the fall, and is now anticipating the annual spring conference which a delegation will attend. This year the Winter Carnival program, which is under the administration of Mountain Club, was revised to permit coronation of the carnival king and queen on the first night of festivities.

During the past year the College dramatics department has sponsored three long plays and three programs of one-act productions. Casts were drawn entirely from the undergraduate body and several experimental dramas had student directors. Much practical training was given in producing, costuming, scenery-building, and make-up.

"Candlelight," presented last spring during Junior and Senior Weeks, was a sophisticated comedy, filled with amusing and slightly embarrassing situations. Richard F. Dempewolff '36, Robert W. Leonard '37, and Doris Hiller '35, playing the leading roles, made very effective the epigrams and repartee that crackled in every line.

The current season opened on November 6 and 7 with the presentation of "Double Door," a dramatic recital of the influence of a dominating personality on a family. This play, written by Elizabeth McFadden, is filled with difficult characterizations which a cast, headed by Joy A. Rahr '37, did most ably.

The next major presentation was the operetta "H. M. S. Pinafore." Produced through the co-efforts of the dramatics and music departments, this famous work of Gilbert and Sullivan was received with tremendous enthusiasm in Rutland on February 19 and here the following two nights. With the leading players, John F. Darrow '37 and Margaret R. Leach '36, supported by a cast capable in both singing and acting, the witty satire and catchy music were successful at every point.

"The Man in the Stalls" and "Number 10," directed by Eric L. L. Swyler and Dorothy M. Wunner '34, playhouse assistants, were presented on November 28 as the first experimental productions this year.

Continuing its season of last year, the Men's Debating Team turned in another successful season. It met Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth, Colgate, Williams and Union and registered victories in approximately 70 percent of the contests. On its fall trip the squad broke Colgate's five-year winning streak.

Positions on the team are open to all interested men in College. Each fall a system of tryouts is held, where prospective debaters demonstrate their ability. This year, three of the first-year men debated in varsity contests, thus giving them the experience they need for next season.

This year two foreign debates were featured: one with a combined Canadian team, and the other with Cambridge, England. Both contests were well received by the audience. Topics such as limiting the power of the Supreme Court, socialized medicine, reelection of President Roosevelt and economic nationalism were discussed. Although the team will lose two of its regular members in June, another successful season is expected next year.

The success of the Women's Debating Team has been in part due to the fact that the varsity squad was composed of members with three years' experience. The tryout for new members was held early in the fall, and selecting was done by a series of trial debates. The extensive program enabled Coach Perley C. Perkins to use the tryouts in several meets. With this substitution of the underclassman debaters, prospects for next year are good in spite of the vacancies which will be left by two senior members.

The group made two trips this year, corresponding to those of last year, one to Boston and the last through lower New York State. The latter trip was made before the spring recess, and the schedule was then completed with two encounters at home.

Debating on subjects of rather vital interest to us all, the team has emphasized the following: "Resolved: That the New Deal is Tending Toward Socialism." "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt a Policy of Socialized Medicine."
The English Club, an honorary society which was founded in 1921, consists of students of both the men’s and women’s colleges who are interested in the further study of literature. Meetings are held monthly at the home of President and Mrs. Moody during which talks by members of the faculty and visitors are given, and modern literature and arts are discussed informally. Refreshments are served at the end of these meetings.

Mr. Lansing V. Hammond of the English department, who returned to Middlebury after a year of study at Yale, spoke to the club on October 9 on Joseph Conrad as an author, as a man, and as a sailor. On November 20, Mr. Waldo H. Heinrichs of the sociology department talked on "Culture on the Trail of Imperialism." At the December meeting Prof. Werner Neuse of the German department spoke on the writings of John Dos Passos, contemporary American author. January 15, Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, head of the French department, spoke on the life and works of Jules Romains. February 5, Prof. H. Goddard Owen, member of the English department, discussed general conditions in Turkey. Professor Owen had just returned from a half-year leave during which he visited Turkey and other European countries. After each of these talks discussions were conducted by the group on the topic of the evening. Many other equally interesting topics and speakers are scheduled for the spring meetings.

Those desiring membership in the club must hand in a written application and must be voted into the organization by a majority vote. The membership does not exceed forty and usually consists of juniors and seniors. The applicants are chosen for their high scholastic standing, their work on College publications and their interest in the purpose and aims of the club.

The French Club is organized for the purpose of giving the students who do not live at the Chateau an opportunity to speak and hear spoken the French language, and through association with the French faculty, to become more familiar with French literature, customs and music. Membership in the club is open not only to students in the French department, but also to all those interested in the language. The club is allied with the international organization, "L'Alliance Française."

The meetings of the club are held monthly in the Grand Salon of the Chateau with the exception of the first, the traditional "bacon bat," held on Chipman Hill. This year the program included several plays given by both the students and the faculty; a Christmas program, followed by carol singing at the various dormitories and professors' houses, and a class stunt night. The annual French Club formal was held in late February.

The monthly meetings of the Spanish Club are characterized by talks and discussions on topics pertaining to the life, culture and literature of Spain. Dramatic presentations and social functions, intended to represent as nearly as possible those held by the people of Spain, are features of the gatherings. The program of the club is arranged to combine sociability and instruction. All students who express an interest in any phase of Spanish life are welcomed as members of the organization.

At the initial fall meeting, a supper is served in the true Spanish manner. The outstanding social event of the year is the Spanish Carnival, a costume ball, which all members and their guests are invited to attend. Prizes are awarded for the most original dress, as this serves to create a spirit of competition for ingenuity in selecting suitable costumes.

The German Club is composed of two groups: Der Deutsche Verein and Die Kleine Gruppe. The former consists of all the German students while only the more advanced students are members of Die Kleine Gruppe. Both groups meet once a month to study the customs, music, and literature of Germany. Prof. Werner Neuse, faculty advisor, is president of the Interscholastic Federation of German Clubs, an organization to which the club belongs.

During the year Professor Neuse has given talks to the club concerning German life and literature. Karl Wolf, exchange student from the University of Heidelberg, spoke to the students about German schools. At Christmas time the club presented a nativity play and carol singing, features which have become an annual custom. Puppet shows and shadow plays depicting German scenes were presented at the meetings of the larger group. At the meetings of the smaller group, German games and songs are presented, giving the student a chance to become familiar with the language.
The Athletic Council regulates all Middlebury intercollegiate and intramural sports contests. It administers all athletic funds, approves the election of managers and captains, and awards varsity letters. The membership consists of the Director of Athletics, five faculty members, the president of the Undergraduate Association, one alumnus, captains of the major sports and of each minor sport in season. Varsity managers are eligible to attend meetings but not to vote.

The organization holds a regular meeting every month, and special meetings upon call of the president. Its constitution can be amended only by a two-thirds vote of the Council followed by a two-thirds vote of the Undergraduate Association. Questions of eligibility which are not related to scholastic standing and of requirements for receiving a varsity "M" are decided by this group.

During the past year, the Council has reorganized managerial elections (with the student body's approval), by taking the voting privilege from team captains and assistant managers. For the first time, minor letters were awarded to members of the varsity board track relay team.

The requirements for an "M" in winter sports were revised by the Council, and a new point system for intramural sport tournaments was decided upon last spring. Action upon the question of selecting a student manager of intramural athletics was deferred until a later date.

In the fall, the University of Vermont protested concerning Middlebury's half-year eligibility rule. The Council, however, voted for continuing the present system. Discussion upon the advisability of having co-captains led to the appointing of a committee to investigate this subject.

The Blue and White football season of 1935, while unsuccessful from the standpoint of its won-lost record of six defeats against one victory and one tie, was by no means a total failure. In the first place, much capable sophomore material was uncovered, and secondly, a victory was scored over our traditional rival—Norwich.

The Panther team, which felt very severely the absence of such previous season stars as Boehm, Shaffiroff, Zawistoski, and Williams, had for its nucleus the survivors from the aggregations of the past two years. Craig, Forbush, Hoxie, and MacLean were stalwarts on the line, while Golembeske, Leete and Ruggeri were the mainstays of the backfield. Anderson, Brusseau, Cridland, Lovell, Riccio and Seixas were the chief aides to the veterans in the forward wall, while Dawes, Boehm, Chalmers, Guarnaccia and Liljenstein lent important assistance to the more experienced backs.

On the attack the team compensated for its lightness by speediness and deceptive plays, as Coaches Beck and Akerstrom drilled their players well in the complicated formations of the Warner system. Since this offense is based on reverses, spinners, behind-the-line passes and intricate end-sweeps, the Beckmen were much aided by a dry, firm gridiron. On the defense the lack of weight was much more serious, for although the Panther linemen made several valiant goal-line stands, nevertheless the dearth of heavy power was noticeably a disadvantage before powerful center dashes and line plunges.

Union

Battling an aggregation which was its equal in every department of the game, Middlebury opened its season on the home field by deadlock-ing with Union in a 6-6 tie game which revealed little football better than the mediocre. A steady rain was especially hindering to the Panther end-sweeps and short passes.

After an early Blue and White drive had been abruptly ended by a fumble deep in the Garnet territory, the game settled down to a prolonged kicking duel until late in the second period, when the Beckmen recovered a Union fumble on the latter's 20-yard line. Taking advantage of this break, Middlebury carried the ball over with a series of line smashes by Dawes and Chalmers.

With the opening of the second half, Union revealed a new fight that enabled it to get into scoring position through line smashes by Krull and Brown, and to score on a long pass which was received in the end zone by Waldron.

WILLIAMS

A powerful Williams juggernaut, the best Purple team in years, overwhelmed the fighting but outclassed Panther team by a 40-0 score on Porter Field in the second game of the season. Displaying a galaxy of sparkling passes, slashing off-tackle plunges, and spectacular end sweeps, the Purple completely baffled the Blue and White. One touchdown came in the first period, three in the second, and two in the third.

The only redeeming features for Middlebury were the fine showing of portions of the forward wall, and the successful aerial offense launched in the last five minutes of play. Two passes, Leete to Winslow, brought the ball to within ten yards of the Purple goal, but an attempted field goal fell short to end the drive. With only two minutes to play, Leete again lashed out with two passes—this time to Chalmers and once more the Blue and White was within scoring distance, only to find themselves unable to push the ball over in four downs.

COAST GUARD

The Middmen met their second loss of the season when they unexpectedly received an 8-6 defeat from an under-rated Coast Guard Academy eleven on Jones Memorial Field at New London, Conn.

Catching the overconfident Panthers off guard, the Guardsmen rolled up an eight-point lead in the first quarter. Following a 60-yard gain from a reverse lateral, Bokanas received a pass in the end zone to give Coast Guard six points. An attempted placement was blocked, but a few minutes later, Leete of Middlebury was nailed in his own end zone by Bokanas, to give the Academy a safety.
Throughout the remainder of the game the Panthers put up a tremendous offensive battle. Receiving a punt on his own 20-yard line, Leete weaved his way through the entire opposition to the Guardsmen's 2-yard stripe. Dawes crashed through center for the touchdown on the next play, but Hoxie failed to convert from placement. Throughout the last quarter, however, the Coast Guard line managed to hold Middlebury at the crucial moments.

TUFTS

Although the Panther eleven received a 20-14 defeat from Tufts at Medford, Mass., it exhibited the best football of its season.

After the Jumbos had piled up two touchdowns through the smashes of Abdu and the pass combination of Spath to Acera, and had added both conversions, the Blue and White revealed a powerful passing offensive. Forbush went to the Tufts 33-yard marker with the first aerial. Two short passes brought about a first down and then Leete tossed a spiral which was deflected to Guarnaccia, who stepped over the goal line. Hoxie converted.

After a successful goal-line stand early in the second half, the Middmen were unable to hold again, and Abdu smashed over for his third touchdown, to complete the Tufts scoring. Middlebury fought back in the last quarter, and with line plunges and off-tackle slants the ball was advanced to a scoring position from which Leete completed a touchdown-pass to Guarnaccia. Again Hoxie's placement was successful.

NORWICH

The Panther scored its only win of the year when it defeated Norwich by a 14-0 score on Porter Field during Homecoming. Keeping Hicks, the Cadet star, well checked, the Blue and White demonstrated a well-balanced running and passing attack and superior punting as well.

Taking the ball on the Horseman 40-yard marker, the Middmen advanced with spinners and plunges and a long pass, Leete to Craig. From the 3-yard line, Guarnaccia plunged through center to make the first score. Hoxie made his placement successfully, and it was 7-0.

After checking Norwich upon the Middlebury 5-yard marker during the second quarter, the Blue and White kept the Horsemen bottled up in their own territory throughout the remainder of the game. In the middle of the last stanza the Panther scored again, when Guarnaccia went over from the 2-yard stripe after Leete had intercepted an aerial. Once more Hoxie converted to make the final score, 14-0.
ST. LAWRENCE

Although sustaining its third defeat, the Blue and White made a creditable showing by holding a powerful St. Lawrence University eleven to a 7-0 win. In spite of the fact that they were able to make only one sustained drive, the Panthers successfully held the enemy at many crucial points.

Throughout the first quarter the Scarlet and Brown were continually threatening. Following one successful goal-line stand, Middlebury weakened and allowed Paczkowski to plunge across the goal behind Rimkus' interference for the only score.

In the third quarter Middlebury advanced to the Laurentian 2-yard line, only to lose the ball on downs. After Golembeske intercepted a pass on his own 25-yard stripe, Dawes gained fifteen yards on an off-tackle play; a pass from Leete to Forbush advanced the ball to the St. Lawrence 20-yard stripe; an end run brought it down to the 8-yard marker; a plunge took it to the 2—but all this came to an abrupt end with incomplete passes.

ITHACA

The Panther gridmen sustained their fifth defeat when Ithaca State Teachers downed them on Porter Field by a 14-0 count. Middlebury, showing no effective attack, penetrated only once far into Blue and Gold territory.

Ithaca's first counter came when Navarro slipped through center after a 38-yard forward to the 5-yard marker. The conversion was successful. The second Blue and Gold score resulted from a touchdown run by the interceptor of a pass tossed by Guarnaccia. A placement made the extra point.

Middlebury threatened in the first quarter after Golembeske had advanced to the opposition's 35-yard marker following an interception. A series of plunges brought a first down deep in Ithaca territory but the Blue and Gold held for downs. In the last period the Blue and White had another scoring opportunity when, following Chalmers' run to the Teachers' 30-yard line, the Panther eleven completed two forwards in succession. The third aerial, however, was intercepted.

VERMONT

In the last game of the season, Middlebury fell the victim of an inspired Vermont team at Centennial Field, Burlington. Taking a 9-0 defeat, the Blue and White found itself completely without a claim upon state football supremacy.
Vermont gained its lone touchdown by Giardi's plunge from the 1-yard line after O'Neill had completed a pass from Sunderland. Lawton added the extra point. Late in the fourth period, Clark dropped Boehm behind the Panther goal to bring the Lakesiders' total up to nine points.

During the second half, Middlebury fought furiously, but her offensive was checked by the Catamounts' splendid secondary. Many times Dawes, Leete and Ruggeri went through wide holes in the forward wall, only to meet onrushing Catamount backs. Often as well, the furious Panthers made successful goal-line stands, only to have the ball again within their 20-yard stripe due to the aerials of Sunderland and the runs of O'Neill.

George E. Farrell

Middlebury athletes come and Middlebury athletes go, but George Farrell goes on and on. Not only that, but the coming and going can be laid directly at George's door as well, for it is as Middlebury's trainer that George keeps the boys in the tip-top of condition, while it is as Middlebury's equipment manager that he keeps them looking the part they are to play.

George came to the College twenty years ago, when his sole duty was to take care of the various buildings. The College at that time was without a trainer, and as George showed interest in the work, it sent him to New York where he studied in the physical therapy department of Bellevue Hospital. With this as a background and with the added experience of fifteen years' service, George daily continues to care for the ailments and ills of Middlebury's athletes. He is a man whose opinion is respected, and a man who is liked by all.

SEASON

Middlebury’s freshman football team of the class of 1939 met with varied success during its season. Handicapped by a small squad, numerous injuries and lack of practice, Coach Nelson managed to put out a fighting team which was victorious over Kimball Union Academy and Norwich freshmen and lost to St. Lawrence, Williams and Vermont freshmen. Through inability to put the same eleven in any two games, the team was unable to show any very well organized offense but, nevertheless, several individual performances stood out. King, Murray and Kinsey were outstanding in the line, Kirk shone at end, and in the backfield, Golembeske and VanDoren consistently played well.

ST. LAWRENCE

Middlebury, after only two weeks’ practice, met the St. Lawrence freshmen on Porter Field, October 12. Outweighed, outnumbered, and outplayed throughout, the Blue and White went down fighting at the small end of a 25-0 score. During the course of the game, Golembeske, Tracy, Kirk, Feldman and King were injured, hampering Middlebury’s chances in future contests. After the game the squad elected King, who played an outstanding game at guard, captain.

KIMBALL UNION

The Panther yearlings faced an easier foe the following week in Kimball Union Academy. Middlebury consistently outplayed their opponents although scoring only twice. Kirk scored on a pass and Blanchette tallied on a line buck. VanDoren added an extra point to make the final score 13-0. Tribble’s fine kicking kept the ball in enemy territory for practically the whole game.

WILLIAMS

The next journeyed to Williamstown to meet the Purple freshmen. Middlebury, hindered by the loss of its regular ends, Kirk and Tracy, and with other men suffering minor injuries, lost 13-0. King, VanDoren, Murray and Golembeske played their usual good games.

NORWICH

The following week the freshmen played the Norwich plebes at Northfield. Middlebury played its best game of the season, and took the Cadets into camp by a score of 6-0. Thompson and VanDoren played well in the backfield, while King, Kinsey, Murray and Rohrer were outstanding in the line. VanDoren scored the touchdown on a line buck.

VERMONT

In the final game of the season the freshmen met the Vermont yearlings on Porter Field, November 8. In spite of Tribble’s kicking, Murray, King and Kirk’s defensive work, and VanDoren’s line plunging, Vermont scored on a pass towards the end of the first half. Both teams exhibited defensive ball throughout, neither being able to show much in an offensive way. Middlebury never seriously threatened, although Vermont was close to the Panther goal on several occasions as a result of Levine-Neuber passes.

WON 9—LOST 4
The Middlebury hoopmen completed a highly successful season with a record of nine wins and four losses, and took the State title for the third consecutive years without a defeat by any of the State teams. McGill, Massachusetts State and Lowell Textile were also beaten by the Panthers, while losses were sustained at the hands of Dartmouth, Tufts, Amherst and Springfield. Led by Co-Captains Hoehn and Martin, the Beckmen were only outclassed by Springfield and Amherst, two of the strongest teams in New England.

Prospects looked bright for a good season from the start, as the entire last year's outfit returned intact. In the first encounter Hoehn and Leete held down the forward berths, M. Clonan was at center and Martin, F. Clonan and Lins divided the guard assignments. The illness of M. Clonan, captain of the 1934-35 team, sent Anderson to center as a regular starter at mid-season. Hoehn led in scoring for the season followed closely by Leete. Both M. Clonan and Anderson turned in good performances at the center position. Lins was high scorer at the guard position in several games, and Martin and F. Clonan were strong defensive thrusts. The play of Chalmers in the first Vermont game warranted him service in every tilt thereafter, while Philipson, a steady forward, Lonergan, a scrappy guard, and VanDoren, a freshman of definite capabilities, saw service.

The highlights of the season were the three-point victory over Lowell Textile, a ranking team in New England, the overtime triumph against Vermont, and the narrow defeat of the Blue and White by the Big Green at Hanover.

Lost by graduation are Co-Captains Hoehn and Martin, M. Clonan and Leete, all sparkplugs in this year's team. Though their departure will be keenly felt, F. Clonan leads a group composed of Lins, Anderson, Chalmers, Lonergan and VanDoren that should form an excellent nucleus for next year's quintet.

MCGILL

In the opening contest of the season, the Middlebury hoopmen trounced McGill, 47-26. The Canadians gave the Panther a good battle in the first half when they held the Beckmen to a 14-13 count. The second period saw the Blue and White hit their stride, however, and register thirty-three points in a fine display of shooting. Hoehn, held scoreless during the first half, threw in five baskets and two fouls in rapid succession to lead the parade. Leete and Lins each tallied eleven points to further the margin of victory.

DARTMOUTH

In the second encounter, the Panther was nosed out by Dartmouth, 43-40, when the Indians staged a last-period rally to turn near defeat into victory. The Beckmen were in top form, especially Leete, who gave one of the best exhibitions of shooting ever seen on the Dartmouth floor. Fourteen personal fouls called against the Blue and White as contrasted to three against Coach Stark's men was more than enough to give the Indians their small margin of victory. Leete was high scorer for the contest with eighteen points followed by Thomas and McKernan of Dartmouth with thirteen and twelve points, respectively.
MASSACHUSETTS STATE

The Panther quintet invaded the Bay State for a two-game trip just previous to the Christmas recess, and in the first tilt defeated Massachusetts State College, 30-17. Hoehn led a first-half attack that found Middlebury leading at the end of the initial stanza, 19-6. Coach Beck substituted freely in the second half to save the regulars for the Tufts game the following night. Hoehn tossed in five floor baskets to garner the high total for the evening, while M. Clonan and Leete also played well.

TUFTS

The final minutes of play saw a fairly substantial Panther lead wiped out, as Tufts rallied to beat the Beckmen, 28-27. The Blue and White hoopsters led 14-13 at the half and increased this lead during the second period, only to be beaten by a basket and a foul from the hands of Keith, Jumbo substitute guard. Lins was by far the most outstanding player on the floor, as he combined fine defensive play with some good shooting to tally twelve points, high total for the evening. Leete also was outstanding while Captain Harris looked best for the Jumbonians.

AMHERST

A crippled Blue and White team again journeyed into Massachusetts, where they met excellent fives in the form of Amherst and Springfield. With only one of the regular starting five off the sick list, the Beckmen played themselves out in the first half of the Amherst game and lost in the final period, 55-33. Hoehn, who in sixteen minutes of play turned in one of the most brilliant exhibitions of his career, tallied thirteen points. This, together with several baskets by Leete, placed Middlebury behind only 34-28 at the end of the half. With the substitutes at the helm during the second period, the Panther hoopsters were completely outclassed as Coey and Ramey of the Sabrinas ran wild.

SPRINGFIELD

The Springfield encounter saw a similar occurrence to that of the previous night against Amherst. In the rear by only four points at the close of the initial period, the Panther team lost out in the second half, 38-23. Mainly responsible for the win was Nuttall of the Red and White, who counted eleven times from the foul line which, together with two twin counters, gave him the high total of fifteen points. The combined efforts of Leete and Lins gave Middlebury thirteen of their twenty-three markers. Anderson and Chalmers of the substitutes were in better form than at any time previous to this game.

VERMONT

In one of the most thrilling contests ever witnessed on any basketball floor, the Beckmen transformed almost inevitable defeat into victory in the overtime period when they outfought the Catamount to win, 28-26, at Burlington. As a climax to a slow first half, the Panther forces staged a remarkable comeback after having been behind, 18-9, to tie the score, 20-20, at the end of the regular playing time. Hoehn and Chalmers tossed in two beautiful baskets apiece before the Green and Gold could score, to assure the Beckmen of victory. Hoehn, known as the Catamount nemesis, was high scorer for the contest with twelve points. Lins, playing all three positions for Middlebury, gave a versatile display of himself, and Chalmers, together with Hoehn, was the spark in the final rally. Anderson and Lonergan also were outstanding for the Panther.

ST. MICHAEL'S

The Middlebury hoopmen won their second state contest when they swamped St. Michael's by the count of 62-27. It was a field night for Leete, Hoehn and Anderson who tallied seventeen, sixteen and thirteen points, respectively. The attack opened slowly and gained momentum as the game progressed. Leading by only 9-4 with half of the first period gone, the entire Panther team tossed in baskets from all angles of the court during the remainder of the contest. The play of VanDoren, freshman guard, in his first encounter showed promise of added reserve power for the rest of the season. This victory gave the Beckmen undisputed lead in the race for state title honors.

NORWICH

The Middlebury quintet accounted for another state game when they easily defeated Norwich, 47-30. Though the passing and shooting of the Blue and White five was ragged, Leete and Anderson sifted through the Cadet defense to score often. The play of the Panther guards, Martin and F. Clonan, was greatly improved over previous tilts, as they held the Cadet forwards to comparatively few baskets while tallying six points apiece themselves. Leete tossed in fourteen points to lead the scorers of the evening.

LOWELL TEXTILE

The Panther hoopmen reached the height of the season when they narrowly defeated Lowell Textile, one of New England's most formidable teams, 44-41, in a game played here. The outcome of the game was always in question as neither team led by more than a few points during the entire game. The guarding of Lins, who held Athanas, the country's leading scorer, to seven points while tallying seven himself, was the feature of the contest. Hoehn tossed in twin counters from all angles of the court to ring up sixteen points, while the Clonan brothers were strong both defensively and offensively.

ST. MICHAEL'S

Pressed to the limit by a greatly improved St. Michael's outfit, the Middlebury hoopmen eked out a 30-27 victory over the Purple on the Winooski Park court. The contest was close and hard fought all the way, Middlebury retaining about a three- or four-point lead throughout most of the encounter. The shooting of Morris, the Mikemen's right forward, and the guarding of Wallin was exceptional. Hoehn again was the offensive thrust for the Blue and White as he put together three twin counters and five foul shots for a total of eleven points. M. Clonan, who played nearly full time for the first time since before Christmas, also aided in securing the victory.

NORWICH

As against St. Michael's, the hoopmen found Norwich stronger than at the first meeting. The Panther maintained a small lead throughout the tilt, however, to win rather easily, 31-23. Opening strong, the Beckmen took a 7-0 lead, but Fernandez, Cadet guard who turned in a fine exhibition for the Horsemen in tallying thirteen points, closed the gap with a flurry of baskets. A 19-15 lead at the end of the first half was increased in the second period, as Hoehn, Leete and Lins scored several times to give Middlebury their margin of victory. Norwich was handicapped in the contest by having only one substitute to insert into the encounter.

VERMONT

In an impressive finale to a successful season, the Middlebury hoopmen more decisively clinched the State title by defeating the Green and Gold forces from the University of Vermont by the count of 35-26 in a game played at home. The Panther defense was the best of the season, as not a Vermont player had a shot from inside the foul circle during the first half. Lins and M. Clonan, a new guard combination, worked together very well as they consistently retrieved the ball from the backboard and added to the defensive play. Hoehn and Leete did some good shooting during the first half to give the Beckmen a 20-10 lead as the gun marked the close of the first period. The second half was faster and rough in spots. The Catamount staged a short rally, but Hoehn and Leete penetrated the Vermont defense to score easy step shots and assure the Blue and White of victory.

SEASON

The Blue and White pucksters, although sustaining losses from the sextets of six large schools and a powerful alumni team, had a creditable season because of five victories over colleges of Middlebury's size. The Panther icemen were aided by the previous varsity experience of all first-team players, and by an unaltering fighting spirit. The chief drawback was the scarcity of effective reserves, as time and again opposing squads succeeded in running up scores after the Middmen had been weakened by nearly three periods of continuous skating.

Lacking practice because of poor ice conditions, the Blue and White at first presented an attack based upon individual stickwork. As the season progressed, however, a fine passing offensive with Phinney, flashy center, as key man was developed. When the puck was not kept in enemy territory by the intricate system of criss-crosses, corner shots and drop passes, the Panther defense did yeoman service. The goalie, Nash, was particularly effective in making spectacular saves, and many potential opposition scores were broken up at the net.

UNION

The Middlebury icemen chalked up a win in their first encounter by downing the Union pucksters, 6-0, at Schenectady. The Blue and White had the puck throughout most of the contest, and after building up a substantial lead, experimented with possible scoring plays.

Captain Swett led in the scoring with two goals, while Brooks, Phinney, Westin and D. Swett each had one. Both MacLean and Dawes made two assists that resulted directly in scores. Nash was called upon for only nine saves.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE

In their first home game, the Panthers were nosed out 2-1 by a snappy Massachusetts State sextet. With the score tied four minutes before the final whistle, the tired Middmen were unable to prevent Lavarakas from sinking a shot from the blue line.

Middlebury played fast throughout the contest, but did not score until Captain Swett put in a long looper early in the third canto. A second counter was just missed when Murphy, State defense man, stopped Brooks' charge at the net.
WILLIAMS

The Blue and White icemen avenged defeats in previous seasons by edging out the powerful Williams pucksters, 4-3, at Williamstown. After losing an early two-goal lead, the Panthers won in the overtime when Phinney scored on a long pass from Brooks.

The superb goal tending of Nash was often all that prevented the Purple's speedy five-man offensive from sinking the winning tally. Phinney, with three goals, was the kingpin of the Middmen's attack, while Brooks made the other Middlebury marker with a solo dash.

HAMILTON

Slowed down by a tiresome ride, the Panther rinkmen were unable to cut down a 2-0 lead which a hard-skating Hamilton sextet built up in the first stanza. Throughout the second and third periods Middlebury outsmarted the opposition, only to be checked by the almost impossible saves of Baker, New York goalie.

Often the Middmen's passing attack took the puck deep into enemy territory, only to fail because of faulty shooting technique. Brooks starred on the offense and MacLean on the defense.

ARMY

Playing at West Point, Middlebury was unable to overcome Army's early lead and the contest ended at 4-2. With the Cadets playing defensive hockey after sinking three goals, the Panthers had the puck on opposition ice throughout the final periods, but great work by the enemy goalie, Barker, prevented winning tallies.

In the third canto, Phinney scored twice for the Blue and White. The first counter came after a snappy pass from Brooks and the second culminated a long solo dash through the whole Army team.

FITCHBURG

Returning to their home rink, the Panthers overwhelmed an inexperienced Fitchburg team by an 11-0 score. The Middmen outclassed their opponents in every department of the game, and were hammering at the 'Teachers' net throughout the entire contest.

Five goals were tallied by Phinney, three on unassisted rushes. Brooks sank three shots, two after assists and one on a single-handed sally from center ice. Westin found the cage with two short drives, and Manchester pounded home a pass from Cullins.

NORWICH

The Blue and White rang up another win on the Middlebury rink when they crushed a feeble Norwich sextet 14-0. The puck seldom left Cadet ice, and Tranfaglia, Horseman goalie, was smothered by four tallies in the first eight minutes.

Westin netted six short shots, in each case after an assist by Brooks. MacLean, Phinney and Cullins got two goals apiece, while Captain Swett and Elliott sank one each. A galaxy of new criss-cross plays featured the attack.
ST. NICK’S
The Middmen received an 8-2 defeat from St. Nick’s in the first game of their New York trip. Possessing three excellent forward walls and two ace defense lines, the New Yorkers outclassed and outlasted the fighting Panthers.

During the first two periods, Middlebury maintained a cautious defensive against the enemy’s fast passing attack. Early in the third stanza, Swett sank a speedy pass from Phinney, and a moment later Phinney popped in a second counter after a lone charge through both New York lines.

PRINCETON
The Panthers took their second successive loss, when they were outplayed 7-0 by a powerful Princeton sextet. After holding the Tigers to three tallies in two cantos, the Middmen, exhausted by the fast play, let four counters get through in the final frame.

Covey and Cook, second-string wings, were the mainsprings of the Nassau attack, and aided by many reserves, they unleashed a fierce passing attack that the tired Panthers could not repel. Brooks and Phinney again bore the brunt of the offensive.

DARTMOUTH
The Middlebury pucksters took their worst defeat of the season at Hanover when Dartmouth overwhelmed them 13-1. Facing the most powerful team in the East, the Panthers completely lost control of their smooth-functioning offense.

Although they made several headlong five-men charges to the opposition net, the Middmen could not keep the Green out of Blue and White territory for more than a minute at a time. The lone Middlebury score came in the final stanza when Brooks netted a flat pass from Phinney.

COLGATE
Holding a four-goal lead at the end of the second period, the Panther icemen were barely able to edge out a 4-1 win over a strong Colgate team when they weakened badly in the final canto before the savage attack of last-minute substitutes.

Two Middlebury counters were tallied by Phinney after passes from Brooks. MacLean put in a short shot from a mêlée before the New Yorkers’ cage, and Brooks, after stick-handling from middle ice, sank one unassisted just before the second stanza closed.

ALUMNI
Tired by their clash the day before, the Middmen dropped the final game of the season to an experienced alumni sextet by a 7-6 score. Comprised of five ex-captains of Panther hockey squads, the graduate team led all the way by a single point.

Brooks, with three crucial assists and one goal, and Phinney, with three goals, were the outstanding varsity skaters. Westin was credited with two counters, one on a short pass from Brooks and the other unassisted from mid-rink.

SEASON

The outlook for the 1935 nine was bright at the beginning of the season, since almost all of the preceding year's team returned. All that was necessary was the finding of a third baseman and of a few capable reserve pitchers to assist the veterans, Barker and Guild, on the mound. Coach Nelson finally filled the hole at third, by inserting Lins in the vacancy after several changes in the line-up. The pitching problem was more difficult with Lins and Anderson being the only reserves on hand to supplement the work of Co-Captain Barker and B. Guild.

In spite of this dearth of veteran pitchers, however, Middlebury enjoyed the best season in several years, winning six out of eleven games played, and taking the State championship by beating Norwich and St. Michael's twice and the University of Vermont once. Of the five games lost, three it is felt would have gone the other way if the fielding had been up to the usual standard.

The team was held back in the early part of the season by lack of a suitable practice field, for when spring finally did come to Middlebury, the diamond was inches deep in water. In spite of the efforts of the groundkeepers, the field did not dry out before the middle of the season, and this proved a serious handicap to the early development of the nine into a polished ball club.

B. Guild's pitching arm saved the season for the Panther nine. He pitched four of the six state games, and won them all. He won the three last games of the season and turned in an iron-man performance, hurling twenty-five of the last twenty-seven innings of the season. This feat, and Barker's heavy hitting throughout the state series, were the features of the year.

NEW YORK TRIP

Middlebury opened the season with a trip through upper New York State, with four games scheduled. The Colgate game was rained out, after which Middlebury faced Ithaca. Barker and Lins pitched, and were hit freely by the alert Ithacans. Middlebury lost 7-1. The next game was played against the powerful St. Lawrence nine, and Middlebury scored its first victory, winning by 7-1. B. Guild pitched four-hit ball, and struck out nine of the opponents. Lins pitched good ball against Clarkson, but lost 7-6. The Middlebury infield weakened late in the game and its errors were the deciding factor of the contest. The lack of practice showed up in this trip, especially in the last game.

WILLIAMS
In the first home game of the season, Williams defeated Middlebury by a score of 2-1. Barker pitched for the Panthers and limited his opponents to four hits, with Middlebury's four safe blows being in vain. The game was too slow and too tight defensively to prove interesting from the spectator's standpoint.

VERMONT
Before the annual Junior Week crowd, Middlebury suffered its worst defeat of the season, losing 9-0 to Vermont. Barker pitched for Middlebury and was hit freely. The Vermont baserunners worked several double steals and squeeze plays at the expense of the Panther infield, which seemed unable to cope with the situation. Schwartz pitched masterful ball for U. V. M., yielding five hits and no walks.

ST. MICHAEL'S
The Panther next met the St. Michael's nine at Winooski in the second Conference tilt, and defeated them in a loosely played game 15-10. St. Michael's got eleven hits off Lins' deliveries, while Middlebury picked up fifteen. Middlebury showed great improvement in its batting, although it was still handicapped by a lack of good fielding.

ST. LAWRENCE
The St. Lawrence team next invaded Middlebury for its return game with the Panthers. The New Yorkers avenged their previous loss by a 10-9 win. Anderson started on the mound for the Middlebury nine, but was soon replaced by Barker. Both teams hit freely, and after Middlebury had overcome a 7-0 handicap to lead by a score of 9-8 into the final inning with two gone, the visitors pushed over two more runs to win. Peck, Scarlet ace, was on the mound for the visitors, but was touched frequently by the Blue and White batters.

VERMONT
After postponing the game because of bad weather, Middlebury journeyed to Burlington to face Vermont for the second time with its chances for a Conference championship at stake. B. Guild pitched the entire game for the Panther team, and although he was wild at times and yielded many hits, he was successful in holding the Catamount to four runs. The Panther team, led by Frank Guild, who had a perfect day at bat in getting three hits in as many times to the plate, managed to put five runs across to win. Vermont had men on bases in every inning, but the Middlebury infield choked off several runs by well-executed double plays, with the result that the final box score showed fourteen Green and Gold runners stranded on the bases.
Baseball

ST. MICHAEL'S
Barker started off the next game at home on the mound for the Panthers, but shifted to the outfield after two innings. The pitching duties went to Guild and the latter held the Mikemen well in check for the remainder of the game. With the score of 5-2 against them, the Middlebury club began to hit, and scored four times in the sixth inning, once in the seventh, and three times in the eighth to win by 10-5. Barker led the team in hitting with five safe blows, followed by Bakey, Nash and Zawistoski with three apiece. The team as a whole collected a total of twenty-one safe hits.

NORWICH
Middlebury won the Conference championship by defeating Norwich 6-1 at Middlebury in the last game of the season. B. Guild turned in his best performance of the year, striking out ten, issuing two walks and allowing three hits. The entire Middlebury team hit freely, gathering a total of sixteen safe blows, led by Co-Captain Barker and Zawistoski with three hits each.

MIDDLEBURY 85 — WESLEYAN 50
MIDDLEBURY 79 — WILLIAMS 55
MIDDLEBURY 76 — GREEN MOUNTAIN CONFERENCE—TITLE
MIDDLEBURY 30 — EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATES—SECOND
WON 3—LOST 1
SEASON

Victorious in the Green Mountain Conference and placing second only to Rhode Island State College in the Eastern Intercollegiates, the 1935 Middlebury track team experienced a highly successful season. In the opening meet they swamped Wesleyan by the count of 85-50, and the following week went on to Williams to revenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Purple by approximately a 25-point margin. At the Eastern Intercollegiates the Middlebury track men outclassed nine of the ten other teams participating, and only fell before a well-balanced Rhode Island State aggregation.

Prospects looked bright from the beginning of the season, as a group of the lettermen from last year's squad formed a nucleus around which a formidable team was conditioned. There were few weaknesses, although the weight men and high jumpers were not always consistent point getters. Captain Mathewson took first place in his pet events, the high and low hurdles, in nearly every meet, and Captain-Elect Hoxie showed like form in his specialties, the 100- and 220-yard dashes. Foster, Forbush and Bernardini all garnered either first or second places in the 440 and 880 in every encounter. Mac-Fadyen again completed a successful year in the half-mile and mile events, while Tilford accounted for a creditable number of points in the two-mile.

Cady stood out in the field events, and completed a spectacular career by breaking the broad jump record at the Eastern Intercollegiates. Hoffmann in the pole vault and Williams in the javelin throw were responsible for the Panther's favorable showings in those events, and Lombardy and Whitney with the discus and hammer were also valuable. The freshmen, Guarnacci, Lamb, Riccio and Williams, consistently took seconds and thirds to help give the team a substantial margin of victory.

WESLEYAN

The team opened the season impressively when they travelled to Connecticut to down Wesleyan University by an 85-50 score. Middlebury accounted for twelve first places in fifteen events and showed superiority in every department.
Mathewson won first place in both the high and low hurdles, and Hoxie collected ten points with wins in both of the dashes. Cady broke his own broad jump record with a leap of 22 feet, 6 inches and was followed closely by Guarnaccia. The Blu2 and White took a clean sweep in the 440 as Forbush, Foster and Hill took the places in that order. Bernardini outraced the rest of the field to break the string in the 880, while MacFadyen, as usual, captured the mile run. Tilford showed rare form in the two-mile to take that event away from Brookes. Lombardy, R. Williams and Whitney outclassed their opponents in their events, the discus, javelin and hammer throw, respectively. Hoffmann broke his own record in the pole vault but was forced to take second behind a Wesleyan man. The Cardinal and Black outshone Middlebury in only two events, the high jump and shot put.

WILLIAMS

With the same winning stride that had decisively defeated Wesleyan the week previous, the track men overwhelmed Williams by a \(\frac{79}{2}-\frac{55}{2}\) count. The Panther marched away with nine first places besides their share of seconds and thirds.

Captain Mathewson again topped the hurdles in good time to win both the lows and highs. Hoxie also came through with the initial position in each of the short dashes and Foster came from behind to carry away the honors in the 440. Bernardini, Forbush, and MacFadyen swept all positions in the 880, and the latter outdistanced his opponents in the mile run. All three places were gained in the broad jump as Cady, Barker and Guarnaccia collected the nine-point total. Coach Brown's men were forced to be satisfied with seconds in the pole vault, shot put, high jump and javelin, but Whitney hurled the hammer to a first place, and Tilford ran well to gain a second place in the two-mile. Lamberton, captain of the purple team, was high point man with firsts in three of the weight events. Williams, a freshman, took third behind Hoxie in both of the dashes to turn in an accreditable performance.

The Brown men again showed their superiority in the running events as compared with the field events, where Middlebury teams have been weak for the last few years.

EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATES

The Eastern Intercollegiates were held at Worcester, Mass., with eleven squads competing. Middlebury showed its expected power to gain an easy second place, trailing only Rhode Island State College.

The outstanding individual performance of the Blue and White squad was turned in by Cady when he leaped 22 feet, 10 inches to break the Eastern Intercollegiate broad jump record. Captain Mathewson gained eight points in the hurdles with a first place in the highs and a second in the lows. Hoxie had the misfortune to pull a leg muscle which kept him out of the 220, but he took a second place in the 100. Foster accounted for another dash point by virtue of a fourth in the 440. Forbush won the half-mile in a well-run race and MacFadyen took second place in the mile. Middlebury again showed her weakness in the field events as only a second by Hoffmann in the pole vault and Lombardy's third in the discus saved the Brownmen from a shutout in this department of the sport.
The Panther won its eighth consecutive State title at Centennial Field in Burlington when it met and decisively trounced traditional rivals, Vermont and Norwich. The Blue and White compiled a total of 76 points against Vermont’s 43, while Norwich trailed with 16.

McGuire of Norwich was high point man for the meet, but the well-balanced Panther drive was insurmountable. Foster led the parade with a record-tying quarter-mile and a third in the 220. J. Williams upheld the laurels in the dashes, as Hoxie was forced out with a pulled ligament, by taking two seconds. MacFadyen was victorious in both the half and the mile, followed by Bernardini in the former and Lamb and Gross in the latter race. Tilford overtook the field to gain first place in the two-mile run. Captain Mathewson accounted for the high hurdles followed by MacLean, but was forced to second place behind Syme of Vermont in the lows. The Panther again faltered in the field events, but the total already run up in the running events had assured them of victory. Riccio’s heave took a second place in the shot put, while Shea collected three points in the high jump. Hoffmann had little competition in the pole vault and took his event easily. Cady, with Guarnaccia taking second, leaped to an easy win in the broad jump. R. Williams hurled the javelin far out to win his event, and Whitney and Lombardy took seconds in the hammer throw and discus, respectively, to complete the total.

The season opener against the R. P. I. harriers resulted in a 25-30 victory for the Blue and White. Captain MacFadyen led the pack home with the time of 25:03, tying the record of Trumbell of Rhode Island State, who set that mark on the Middlebury course in 1933. Tilford and Meacham, of the Panther runners, took third and fourth positions, respectively, being edged out of the second spot by Hitchcox of the New Yorkers.

The following two weeks resulted in an equal number of defeats for Coach Brown's protégées, following meets with the Williams and Connecticut State harriers. The meet with the former wound up with a 27-28 score, when the Panther men were nosed out at the finish of a close race. Middlebury dropped the meet to the powerful Connecticut runners, 28-40, being outclassed at the start by Linley, Sutcliffe and Chapman who took the first three places. MacFadyen placed fourth and Meacham sixth.

The Blue and White hill and dalers gained their most spectacular victory in years by downing the Dartmouth harriers 27-28 after a gruelling four-mile race. Whitman of the Indians led the runners in but MacFadyen and Meacham of the Middlebury harriers captured the second and third spots to insure victory. In their final encounter a fighting Panther team dropped the meet with Vermont 27-28 after a vain attempt to match the home-stretch spurts of the Green and Gold runners.
The 1939 freshman cross country team lost its only encounter of the year to the University of Vermont yearling runners by a score of 15-40. The contest was held on the University of Vermont course, November 17.

The freshman runners were called out for practice early in the fall, and Coach Brown put them through an intensive conditioning program in the weeks before the race. Trial runs were held weekly over the three and one-half mile Middlebury course. The immediate objective of the program was to prepare the men for their one meet, but the main purpose of the training period was to give them experience for the time when they can join the varsity squad.

The first man to finish the Vermont grind was Russel, a Green and Gold runner, and he was closely followed by nine of his teammates. Cary, the initial Middlebury man to finish, came in tenth, while Stoops and Galassi, finishing eleventh and twelfth, respectively, were the next Panther runners to cross the line. They were closely followed by Parker, Lord, Anderson and Romeo of the Blue and White.

SEASON

Competing in six meets this year, the winter sports team compiled a creditable record, taking three firsts, one third, one fourth and one ninth. Meeting some of the best college teams in the East, Middlebury is ranked among the outstanding ski teams in New England.

Beginning the season, Middlebury opened the new ski jump and ski trails on Chipman Hill with a victory over the Williams College team. Competing during the season in the Dartmouth, Middlebury, Norwich and Williams winter carnivals, the Blue and White skiers climaxed the season by capturing the Vermont championship at a meet sponsored by the Mount Mansfield Ski Club.

The team’s most impressive performance was at the Middlebury Winter Carnival, where with twelve teams participating it took third place. Meacham, with a first in the cross country event and a second in the combine, was high scorer for Middlebury. Captain Holmes, Hubbard, Harvi and Robinson were the other members of the team.

With three men graduating this year, prospects for next winter are not too bright. The possibility that Springstead, last year’s captain, out with injuries this season may be able to compete along with Harvi, Robinson and Blanding, makes the outlook for next year more optimistic.

WILLIAMS COLLEGE

In the first meet of the year, Middlebury defeated the Williams College team 498.5 to 479.5. Clement of Williams was the visitors’ outstanding man, taking a first in the cross country, slalom and the combined event. Holmes, Hubbard and Meacham were high point men for the Blue and White.
Winter Sports

WILLIAMS CARNIVAL

Getting 389.3 points, Middlebury was fourth to Dartmouth B, Harvard and New Hampshire, whose scores were, respectively, 500, 435.1 and 399.2. Handicapped by unfamiliarity with the jump and trails, Middlebury was not impressive. Most of the team's points were compiled in the slalom and cross country events, although no Blue and White skier placed very high in either of these races.

DARTMOUTH CARNIVAL

Taking ninth place in this meet, Middlebury received 295.9 points. Dartmouth was first with 497.3 points and McGill captured second place with 487.7 points. These two teams were far ahead of the other ten teams. For Middlebury, Holmes and Meacham were outstanding although neither took very high places in their events. This meet was the Intercollegiate Ski Union Championship competition.

MIDDLEBURY CARNIVAL

Dartmouth B captured this meet with a score of 500 points. New Hampshire was second with 470.09 points and Middlebury was third, taking 467.65 points. The carnival with twelve teams competing was one of the season's largest meets. Meacham was Middlebury's high scorer, while Bradley of Dartmouth with a first in the combined event was the outstanding skier of the meet.

NORWICH CARNIVAL

Whether Middlebury or Dartmouth B took first place at this meet is not certain due to difficulty in computing the scores. Meacham, taking the cross country, downhill and combined event, was instrumental in placing Middlebury at the top. The rest of the Blue and White team placed high in these events, but they were not impressive in the slalom and jump.

MOUNT MANSFIELD SKI CLUB CARNIVAL

Defeating representatives of six eastern teams, Middlebury captured first place, taking 277.2 points. The Lebanon Outing Club was second with 271.9 points, and Dartmouth B took third place. Meacham, taking a sixth in the downhill, and Holmes and Hubbard, capturing fourth and fifth, respectively, in the jumping, were outstanding for the Blue and White.
The indoor relay team, competing in three major meets of the indoor season, established itself as one of the best Class B relay teams in the East. The quartet broke the record set by last year's team, running the quarter-mile in the fast time of 3:29.1.

In the first meet of the season, the Prout Games at Boston, Middlebury easily outdistanced Massachusetts State, Springfield, and Worcester Tech. Starting off fast, Middlebury took the lead and was never challenged, finishing forty yards ahead of the second-place team.

Running in the Millrose A.C. Games at New York the following week, the team turned in its fastest time of the season. Rhode Island State and Williams both bettered this time, however, to finish first and second, respectively. After trailing for three-quarters of the way, Middlebury passed Bowdoin on the last lap and was just nipped by Williams at the tape.

Closing the season at the Boston A.A. Games, Middlebury defeated Northeastern and ran second to the Bates quartet. The race was close all the way, and it was not until the last lap that Bates pulled ahead to win by a narrow margin, with Middlebury passing Northeastern to take second place.

WON 6—LOST 1

In one of its most successful seasons in recent years, the 1935 tennis team completed its schedule with a record of six victories and one loss. Five lettermen from the preceding season were again on hand, Buskey being selected to play in the remaining position.

Although the Blue and White netmen were forced to bow to a strong Bowdoin team in the initial game, they were able to complete the rest of the schedule without further losses.

The outstanding match of the season was the contest with Union College, with the Middmen opposing the New York State doubles champions. In the singles contest, the netmen were able to win four games to their opponents' two. In the doubles, the teams of LaForce-Buskey and Rudd-Holmes were defeated but Tierney-Brown were able to win their match to give the team a 5-4 victory.
The 1935 golf team completed a successful season despite lack of good weather in which to practice. Breaking even in its seven contests, it won three, tied one, and lost three. Captain Leete, Pickens and Neilson, veterans of the previous season, were ably assisted by either Johnson or Lombardy, who filled the remaining position.

The opening encounter was played at Middlebury, April 29, when the home team defeated Bowdoin in a hard-fought match, 4-2, on individual victories by Pickens, Lombardy and Neilson.

On the New York trip the team broke even conquering Union, 4-2, but losing to Colgate and tying Hamilton. Leete and Johnson were outstanding on this trip.

At home during Junior Week the Middmen fell the unexpected victims of a revised Union quartet to be shut out 6-0. The following Saturday saw them drop still another match, this time to McGill at Montreal.

The Panthers completed the season, however, with an easy 6-0 victory over the representatives of St. Lawrence University on the local course, May 22.
The Women’s Athletic Association does a great deal to promote interest and activity in all forms of physical exercise in the women’s college.

Last fall the Association introduced the idea of having a picnic for the men and women of the freshman class. In October the women’s hockey team of the University of Vermont participated in a game at Middlebury, and were entertained by the Association at a bonfire supper.

This group sponsors tournaments in hockey, tennis, volleyball, basketball, baseball, archery and badminton. Early last fall a mixed doubles tennis tournament created much interest. An allotted number of points is given for hiking, horseback riding and golf if the member devotes three hours a week to the sport and competes in the tournament at the end of the season. New features of this year’s program included instruction in skiing, plain and fancy skating, and the sponsoring of the Women’s Jubilee at the Winter Carnival, followed by a tea for the Middlebury contestants and their guests. At an exhibition square dance given by the sophomore women, the Association awarded prizes to the best group of dancers.

Interest in athletics is stimulated by the awarding of numerals to the members of class champion teams, “MC” monograms to those selected for all-Midd teams, and “M” sweaters to the women who have totaled 10,000 points during their four years of College. This year the Association is initiating the idea of presenting white flannel “M” jackets instead of the customary sweater.
The 1935 baseball season consisted of a series of competitive class games, the climax coming when the championship team was challenged by a team of faculty men. Despite the pouring rain that accompanied the game, a large group of enthusiastic spectators watched the women bat the ball while the men hopped along on one leg from base to base. After the game the players and their friends were treated to a picnic supper.

No all-Midd team was chosen last year, but those women who were most outstanding in baseball were given all-Midd credit. These women included Ruth E. Weaver '36, Marion G. Gerling '37, Margaret E. Hope '37, Barbara Weaver '37, and Erma A. Wright '37.

Field hockey, the most popular of fall sports at Middlebury, found many ardent adherents this year. They were divided according to classes into four teams, which were captained by Ruth G. McNulty '36, Doris M. Downing '37, Florence A. Overton '38 and Audrey V. Dimm '39. After a series of keenly fought games, the championship fell to the seniors, with the sophomores a close second.

On October 31, a sister class meet, in which the University of Vermont participated, was held here. Two games were played between corresponding classes, each college winning one of them. After the playoff, which resulted in a victory for Middlebury, a supper was enjoyed around a huge bonfire. "M" sweaters were awarded by the president of the Women's Athletic Association, who also presented a tin cup with a blue ribbon to the Vermont women. Names of those who won the coveted positions on the all-Midd hockey team were announced at this occasion. This team is one chosen each year from those players in all the classes who have shown the greatest skill and finest sportsmanship. The head of hockey for the fall of 1935 was Irene E. Bonnett '36.

Volleyball once more showed its accustomed popularity among the women of Middlebury College by attracting enough participants to form at least two teams from each of the four classes. The following were chosen as class captains: Phyllis G. Sanderson ’36, Beatrice M. Lindgren ’37, Louise Hoyt ’38 and Eleanor L. Jeschke ’39.

As in former years, an intramural tournament of two rounds was held, from which the sophomore women finally emerged victorious followed closely by the juniors. One of the season’s most thrilling and amusing games was played with Delta Kappa Epsilon and the sophomores against Kappa Delta Rho and the juniors. The sophomores also challenged and met the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

At the close of the season, members were chosen for the all-Midd volleyball team, which is representative of all four classes and consists of those girls who have displayed unusual ability and the keenest sense of sportsmanship. The head of volleyball for the winter of 1936 was Margaret E. Hope ’37.

The sophomore team, using the same combination of players as last year, won the women’s basketball championship as a unit for the second time, with the juniors taking second place. From the beginning of the practice period, the sophomores showed unusual ability, completing the season with no losses. The freshmen, however, were defeated by the championship squad in their first encounter by only a small margin.

Under the management of Melba A. Spaulding ’36, the program consisted of a two-round contest in which a first team from each class participated. Due to the large number of freshmen and sophomore players, a second series was arranged between four teams. These second-team games were refereed by students, two of whom have now received a national rating in basketball and are qualified to referee games in any state for a standard charge.
Individual Sports (Women's)

ARCHERY

As part of the Junior Week activities an archery tournament was held last year for members of class and W. A. A. archery. Margaret W. Scherholz '37, head of archery, successfully conducted the contest on upper campus. Jean E. Douglas '37 kept the title of champion and was awarded a silver loving cup. Alice M. Bassett '38 took second place. Aside from the regular distance and accuracy competition, novelty contests will be held this year.

BADMINTON

Dorothea R. Mathison '37, head of badminton this year, has an ambitious program scheduled. The season officially opens the first week following spring vacation with the beginning of a singles tournament. Those participants not eliminated before the eight finals will team up with players of the men's college likewise still eligible for a mixed doubles tournament. A series of matches in late spring aim to give to outdoor badminton a new importance.

GOLF

A relatively small but enthusiastic group of upperclassmen entered a tournament of the two-ball foursome type. This was organized by Frances S. Whitwell '36, manager of golf. Doris A. Wall '36 and Jean Sawyer '36 won the match. Many others received instruction from the Middlebury Country Club golf pro as class and W. A. A. projects, so that the spring tournament promises to be larger. The use of the course is free to all Middlebury students.

TENNIS

The most popular individual sport on the campus has proved to be tennis as evidenced by the large number of participants in the matches held last spring and fall. Valeria E. Halligan '38 succeeded in defeating all opponents, however, in the singles played in the spring while Joyce Godley '38 earned the championship title this fall. Doubles will be played as soon as the season again opens. Marjorie M. Bulkeley '37 has been elected manager.

HORSEBACK RIDING

Several classes for instruction in horseback riding were conducted in the fall under the direction of Doris K. Cutting '37, head of the sport, and Frances S. Whitwell '36. Groups of both beginners and advanced riders took long enjoyable rides through wood roads and along Otter Creek. The season culminated in a horse show held on the fair grounds. Helen Brewer '39 and Betty Riexinger '39 showed special skill and were awarded prizes.

Middlebury’s third annual Winter Carnival was held February 13, 14, 15 and 16. Robert M. Hutchinson ’37 and Margaret W. Scherholz ’37 were co-chairmen of the affair, which was sponsored by the Mountain Club.

The festivities began on Thursday evening with the presentation of the coronation pageant at the women’s rink. Open house dances at the various fraternities followed this event.

Friday morning the Panther hockey team defeated Colgate 4-3, and in the afternoon coeds from eleven eastern colleges participated in the women’s jubilee meet. That evening the Carnival Ball was held in McCullough Gymnasium.

The intercollegiate ski meet featured Saturday’s program. Dartmouth, with firsts in the jumping and downhill contests, defeated eleven strong teams. New Hampshire edged out Middlebury to take second by a two-point margin.

Saturday evening, after the Blue and White basketball team had won over Lowell Textile, the “Klondike Rush” dance took place. Sunday, the carnival closed with the annual Dunmore Outing at Camp Naidni.

The 1935 Senior Week exercises commenced Saturday morning, on the lower campus. Following the procession from Warner Science Hall to the grandstand facing Old Chapel, an address of welcome to the returning alumni was given by the class president. Following this were given the class history, prophecy, oration and will. In conclusion, departmental and Phi Beta Kappa awards were made by Dean Hazeltine.

After these exercises, the tree planting ceremony was conducted and the activities were concluded by the class smoking ceremony.

Sunday morning the baccalaureate services, held in Mead Chapel, concluded the exercises. President Moody spoke, using as his text, John XVI:12, "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot hear them now."

RECEPTION—
PRESIDENT MOODY'S LAWN
The one hundred and thirty-fifth commencement of Middlebury College and the Women's College at Middlebury was held June 10, 1935, at the Congregational Church, where College graduation exercises have been held for one hundred and thirty-one years. One hundred and twenty-seven diplomas were awarded. Seven master's degrees, five in arts and two in science, were conferred.

Silas H. Strawn, former president of the American Bar Association, delivered the address to the student body. Choosing as his title "Tomorrow," Mr. Strawn undertook a defense of the American constitutional system of government. His theme was that college undergraduates should protect American society from the threats of dictatorship, socialism and communism.
The winning decoration for the Alumni Homecoming week-end was produced by Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. Their design depicted a panther and horse, symbolic animals of Middlebury and Norwich; silhouettes of two football players and attractive crepe-paper decorations.

Chi Psi won the award for the best decoration of Winter Carnival week. A life-sized skier, with appropriate background and effective lighting easily gave them first place.
The editors of the 1937 KALEIDOSCOPE wish to express their sincere appreciation to all those who have helped contribute to the success of this volume. We wish especially to thank:

Mr. Russell C. Knight, of the Howard-Wesson Engraving Co., for his assistance in guiding the choice of pictorial and type layout, and to whom a great share of the credit should be given for any success this book might have.

The Warren Kay Vantine Studio, especially Mr. Norman Johnson, whose unceasing efforts have produced the opening section, and Mr. Vantine, who photographed so well the individuals in the junior section.

Mr. Harry M. Blodgett and the staff of the Free Press Printing Co., whose excellent cooperation and painstaking work have produced a splendid type of printing.

Mr. Jack Steele, for his valuable suggestions and assistance; Mr. Frank Boyce for his helpful ideas; Mr. Wilfred Heinz, for his dependable and accurate work as sports editor and all others who have made it possible to publish this forty-first edition of the KALEIDOSCOPE.

JUST SUPPOSE

Just suppose that four years ago you had started a Savings Account, and into that account you had put each week the extra dollar or two that was really not needed . . . the dollar or two that was needlessly spent. Today you would have a fund of $300 to $600

Why not start a Savings Account Today? Four years from today will be a short time . . . when you are looking backward.

NOTHING TAKES THE PLACE OF Quality

T'S an established fact that Vermont people consider tomorrow as well as today, and that's the simple answer of why this fine store has kept faith with its patrons. Through good times and bad, Sterns has held fast to its founders belief that ultimately the finer things are the least expensive. Now we're ready for a bright new season... with the things you want... with quality merchandise. Sterns has never compromised with quality, and this new spring merchandise lives up to the letter of that rule.

APPAREL ARTS

Advance Spring Issue for 1936

"We do not contend that all fashions originate at the smart eastern universities, any more than we say that all fashions which originate in London provide the final guide as to what will sooner or later be worn in this country—There can be no doubt, however, that university men, as a group, do set the fashion pace to an appreciable extent."

A fact which we have recognized for years and which is uppermost in our buyers’ minds when selecting young men’s wear for the approval of our friends and customers.

Buying as we do, from only the best manufacturers, we are assured of good quality and styles which their broad and careful investigations have proven accepted by university centers.
